

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY

Winston-Salem, North Carolina

ALMA MATER

As we go forth from old State U.

A song of praise we sing to you,

In praises to the memory

Of days at State University.

Thy sons and daughters bring thee fame

Through knowledge which we here have gained.

Exultingly we raise thy name,

O Winston-Salem State University.

As we go forth from old State U.

Good leaders we will always be.

And stand for Christianity,

As you've taught us, State University.

In all we do we shall proclaim

To all the world thy teaching fame,

As we go forth we praise thy name,

O Winston-Salem State University.

A NEW DAY

*Winston Salem State University Is Facing A New Day.
Make This New Day Of Opportunity A New Day Of Achievement.*

A NEW BEGINNING

Of all demands to which college students must respond, the challenge of success is by far the most exacting. As implied by our theme, "A New Day, A New Beginning", we know that it is essential to establish goals underscored with high ideals and actively pursue these goals with willpower and confidence in ourselves.

In choosing WSSU, we experienced a new day . . . a new beginning—academically, culturally and socially. By relying on our theme throughout our years of study and by grasping the opportunities the University has offered, we are now most assuredly prepared to meet the challenges of today's society.

We have endeavored to portray our life at the University in order that we may be ever reminded of this most important phase of our growth and development. We will continue to strive for a New Day, a New Beginning to go on Every Day in Every Beginning.

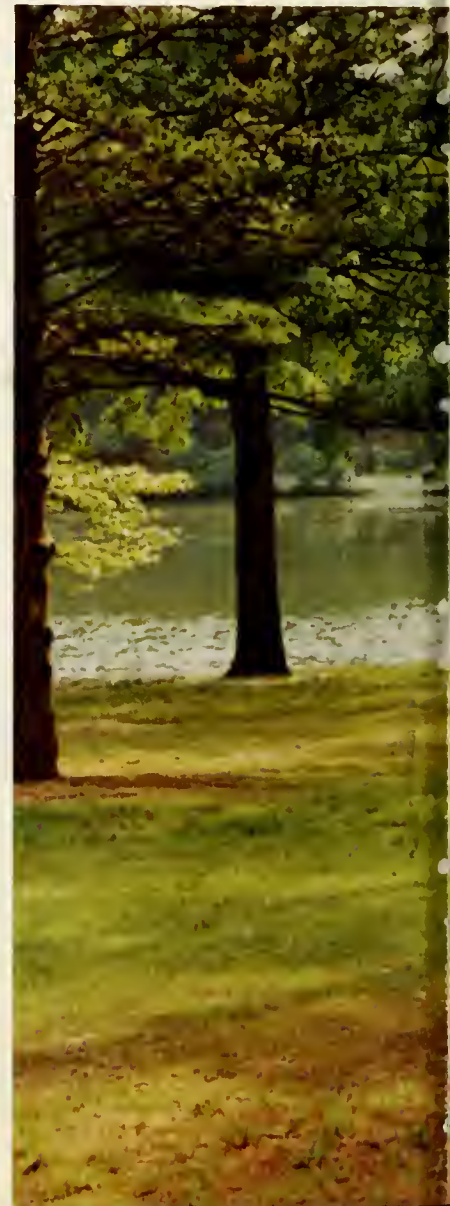

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY, a multi-discipline, coeducational University is a place in which many activities — academic, cultural, athletic and social — blend together, enriching the lives of students to the extent that upon leaving, they will be well prepared for another day, another beginning.

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY has for nearly a century prepared youth for achievement and service in a democratic society. The broad and varied educational program provides a challenging learning experience. Strong teaching, research, professional and community service are hallmarks of the faculty. The spirit of students is remarkable. They are recognized for their scholastic accomplishments through such ways as membership in numerous honor societies and professional organizations. After departing, WSSU students can reflect upon their involvement in an educational endeavor that is truly unique.

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY's students find time and energy for gainful employment as well as for wholesome leisure time activities. Many students discover that jobs on campus or in the community supplement their education financially and enhance their growth socially.

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY becomes a laboratory for the development of student leadership skills through participation in a variety of social and cultural experiences.

"WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY is a vibrant and vital institution that faces its obligations and its opportunities optimistically and courageously."

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY attempts to facilitate the maximum personal, social, cultural and educational development of each student. The entire campus environment becomes an educational setting. Undertaking this approach, a special rapport is established to bring about a more relative, rewarding and enjoyable educational experience.

A sacred Freshman enters Winston Salem State University.
A confident Senior graduates with memories which help keep alive the wholesome and sustaining influence of Winston Salem State University.

... and this glorious year gradually fades away.
The WSSU experience is only one NEW DAY and one
NEW BEGINNING. There will be many more.

INAUGURATION '78

"To the student body, faculty and staff, trustees, alumni of the University, and fellow citizens — I solemnly pledge to you the very best of my efforts. As I begin my tenure as Chancellor, I hasten to add that we at Winston-Salem State University need your support; we need your knowledge; we need your skill; but most of all, in these times, we need your sense of adventure and your humanity. Thank You. God bless you."

Office of the Chancellor

Dear Graduates:

I extend to you my sincere congratulations upon the successful completion of your studies at Winston-Salem State University. Our entire University is proud of you and indeed grateful for the contributions you have made as citizens of our campus community. We hope and trust that Winston-Salem State University will merit your sustaining support in meeting the exciting opportunities and challenges which face our University in the years ahead.

We have endeavored to uphold high standards of professionalism among our faculty and staff, to encourage the pursuit of excellence through the University's academic offerings, to stimulate intellectual inquiry, and to provide you with a solid foundation of knowledge - those basic concepts and skills necessary for you to cope with the demands of a changing society.

It is my most profound hope that the academic, social, and cultural experiences fostered at WSSU will inspire you to perceive your very timely theme--"A New Day, A New Beginning"--with courage and optimism.

Unlimited opportunities await you. Sincere best wishes for continued success in all future endeavors,

Douglas Covington

Dedication

There are many persons who have been instrumental in helping us to achieve our goals and their efforts are certainly appreciated.

Amidst the agony and frustrations involved in making our final year a reality and a success, there is one person who has exceeded all others.

The class of '79 and the Ram staff would like to dedicate this book to Mrs. Elaine Browne, whose untiring efforts and patience can never be forgotten.

Mrs. Browne, always working unselfishly behind the scenes, has not only served well in her capacity as Assistant Director of Student Activities but she has worked diligently and without reservation with the yearbook staff and the senior class.

To our Senior Class Advisor, we take this opportunity to say a special thanks for the many services rendered and all the time spent in "making it happen".

Class of '79 & The Ram Staff

Mrs. Elaine P. Browne

Special thanks to little Miss Jockie Browne, for "looning" us her mother.

Acknowledgements

The yearbook staff is very grateful to several persons who assisted us in making this year's RAM a success. We extend our appreciation to MRS. LYNDY BONHAM, MR. ROLAND WATTS and MR. BEAUFORT BAILEY.

Special gratitude, also, is extended to Miss Cassandra Douglas, Mr. Thomas Leach and Dr. Haywood L. Wilson.

These persons willingly rendered their service to us and we are truly grateful. Thank you.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Editor's Notes

A yearbook in the making requires patience, co-operation and courage to meet deadlines for publication. The staff has strived to make The Ram a memorable book. I know that you will have criticism and praise for the edition. If there is something you dislike about the Ram, let the yearbook staff know about it. You might even offer your assistance in putting the book together next year. To administrators and organizational leaders, I urge you to note your activities and let the yearbook staff know about them. These events can only be covered with your assistance.

In the contents of this yearbook, we have given you our view of WSSU's best kept secrets. We have shown you the academic, cultural, athletic facets of 'SU. The only way to have truly experienced 'SU was by being here and if you were not, you missed out on the opportunities that were waiting to be grasped.

I have thoroughly enjoyed having the privilege to work with Mrs. Eloine Browne, our Advisor, and a very co-operative staff. The long hours and the hard work were well worth it all.

I would like to give special thanks to our Delmar representative, Mr. Joe Decatur, our student consultant, Selma White and to all of my co-workers for the time and energy put into making this 1979 Ram a success.

History Of The Class of 1979

As members of the Class of '79, we have witnessed and participated in the many events that brought changes to the University community as it continued to undergo transition and expansion both academically and physically.

During our four years at WSSU, we have witnessed the retirement of some of the University's best professors and have felt the loss of two dear ones (Dr. Joseph N. Patterson & Mrs. Juanita Oubre). We have witnessed a change in administration with the retirement of Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, chief administrator for over sixteen years; and the appointment of Dr. H. Douglas Covington, the sixth chief administrator of the University.

With changing organizational patterns, we essentially felt a changing atmosphere emerging before us. The occurrence of such multiple changes taking place as they were during our time meant that we were different — for our presence alone meant we were part of that aggregate change.

"Look out WSSU — the Freshman Class of '75 has arrived." This was the attitude of the Class of '79 when we first arrived on the campus. Eager to learn and daring to succeed, the Freshman Class of '75 worked diligently in an effort to get to our present position — "Graduating Class of '79."

The first night on the campus was in complete darkness. There were no lights anywhere on the entire campus except for street lights. Oh, what a frightful predicament for poor freshmen to be in. But as the days grew into months and months into years, things progressed along very well for class. The first freshmen class talent show was presented in the Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium entitled "Shining Stars of '79." The talent show gave us an opportunity to prove what a talented class we actually were. This event proved to be very successful, thanks to the help and cooperation of everyone.

As the academic year '75-'76 progressed we had many honored guests, one of whom was Congressman Yvonne B. Burke. She was quite inspirational in increasing our political awareness.

1976-'77 school year was one in which WSSU continued its stride to upgrade its academic position. This school year was indeed different for us because it meant that we had accomplished our objectives at the college level. We were, thus, maturing and readying ourselves for another level of educational aspirations. We were now really becoming aware of the importance of the aggregate person and that the individual must possess not only knowledge, but the abilities to use that knowledge wisely when applied to the real world.

With the arrival of the new head coach, Bill Hayes, in 1976, came the hope of a winning football team. Those hopes were realized a year later, Fall, 1977. We realized just how lucky we were in gaining such an outstanding coach as the Rams amassed on 11-0 season record. Coach Hayes was named Mutual Black Network's "Black Coach of the Year" after leading the Rams to their first Gold Bowl in recent history.

The presence of our other outstanding coach, Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines was without question a major factor behind the success of our spectacular team. Gaines has guided the men's basketball team to victory after victory. These victories have led Coach Gaines to be honored as the "Winningest Active Basketball Coach." Thanks to all the coaches, WSSU has proven to be one of the most outstanding black colleges in the area of sports!

During '77-'78 we looked forward to many things. As juniors, we progressed further up the ladder to academic excellence, the joy and excitement of being away from home had worn off. We were striving even harder to see the arrival of May, 1979.

The arrival of the new Chancellor brought many changes to the campus of WSSU. Many of the changes were in the improvement of the curriculum.

One, among several recent structural additions to the campus grounds, is the Communications Building which was completed this academic year and occupied during the 1979 spring semester. The 2.2 million dollar, three level structure with a total area of 40,000 square feet aesthetically enhanced the campus grounds as well as served as a means of enriching the existing academic programs. The structure allowed for programmatic expansion, especially in mass communications. The constructing of the Communications Building ultimately would help the University to better serve the career needs of its students, to serve the educational needs of the community, and to have greater capacity in projecting its image.

Also on our campus can be found the newly constructed Atkins Hall, which was dedicated during the fall semester in remembrance of Dr. S. G. Atkins for his outstanding contributions to the school. Atkins Hall has a housing capacity of 250 students. With the building of the new Atkins came a greater togetherness of the student body. The new dormitory made it more convenient for the young men to remain on campus.

As seniors, the Class of 1979 entered the campus of WSSU very optimistically. This was the second year that our Chancellor, Dr. Douglas Covington, served as our chief administrator. In the fall term many challenges, both anticipated and unanticipated, were presented to him which required quite considerable attention on his part. Even though there were intricate problems facing him, his official inauguration which lasted approximately a week, did however prove to be quite successful. To us he expressed great dedication to our values and beliefs.

We grew intellectually because we achieved many honors and attained many personal goals. Academics never declined because we were pressing toward the day when we would proudly march down the aisle to embark upon future goals. Socially, the propositions of a Jazz Concert, and the senior class trip to "ATLANTA" were very well taken.

The emergence of the many new organizations on campus added to the totality of university life. These new organizations extended services to the students, university, and community.

The R. J. Reynolds multi-million dollar grant to Winston-Salem State University proved to be having beneficial results for society as well as for the school and its students. This was indicated by the diverse fields that were being pursued by the remaining 16 seniors who were scholarship recipients. These seniors are the last scholars to be supported by the R. J. Reynolds Program as it was in its final four-year phase when this class entered.

The aforesaid, has not pretended to include every memorable incident of our "Old SU days". Each reader will have a personal set of reflections and thus will always remember their stay at Winston-Salem State University. But, in closing the authors would like to leave you with these thoughts:

"We as graduates must first begin to assert ourselves and maintain a frame of mind that will allow us to achieve. We must realize that while our instructors presented the ideas and information required for success, it is our responsibility to use these tools in meeting our commitment to society better. We have acquired the knowledge to overcome most of the obstacles that face us daily, but the fact still remains that we must establish our priorities in terms of what we want to achieve."

What do you think of your senior

"My senior year has been the best year. I can look back and see what I have learned."

—Dennis Amos

"This year is the most rewarding and yet sad . . . I will depart an institution where much growth and fun have been experienced."

—Larry Baker

"My senior year marks a beginning for more prosperous years to come."

—Harvey Boone

"My senior year will be a time of final preparation for the challenges of the real world."

—Mildred Laboo

year, your education and the future?

"My senior year is a time to organize all that I have learned into an information system that will allow me to function successfully and with ease in life."

—Troy Baker

"I will look at my years at WSSU as an experience that can never be repeated."

—Sharon McClary

"The future looks brighter and brighter . . . I have determination to get advanced degrees."

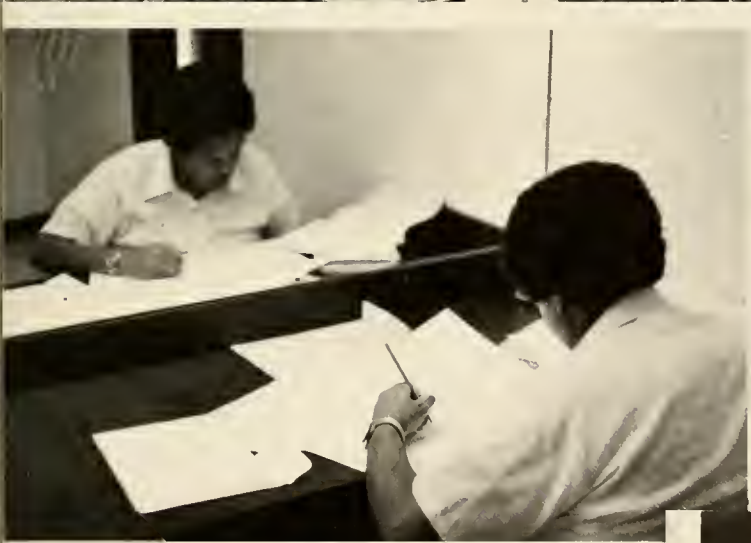

—Paula Gibbs

"We've only just begun . . ."

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

The 1978-79 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will carry the names of thirty-five students from Winston Salem State University who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

Campus Nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all fifty states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

A SALUTE to Major Floyd Griffin

Major Floyd Griffin came to Winston Salem State University as coordinator of the ROTC program in 1975. Shortly after, when he assumed additional responsibilities as enrollment officer, the program at WSSU had only 15 students. Major Griffin with his natural ability as a self-starter and tremendous energy and drive, embarked on a seemingly impossible task of building a strong ROTC program. He has been so successful that the enrollment has increased to 191 students. During his tenure, 27 second lieutenants have been commissioned from Winston Salem State University. In his capacity as enrollment officer, he has increased the total enrollment by 50% and the participation in the advanced program by 60%. He is a truly dedicated officer who makes things happen.

Major Griffin thrives on challenges. A resourceful teacher, he has been able to balance all of his responsibilities in an outstanding manner. Major Griffin constantly recommends innovative changes to improve the image of the ROTC and seeks the responsibility to carry them through. Further accomplishments include organizing orienteering teams and organizational leadership courses sponsoring ROTC Information Days and establishing a cross-enrollment program with High Point College. His work in and out of the classroom produces the insights that inspire students to seek a commission.

Major Griffin's extracurricular activities on the campus of WSSU and in the community are many and varied. A friendly and dynamic person, he understands people and how to communicate with them. His initiative, drive and enthusiasm have been a plus to the ROTC program, the university and the community.

Major Griffin will be leaving Winston Salem State University soon and has been selected for assignment at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Good Luck, Major Griffin, on your next assignment!

WSSU family and friends were entertained by four major lyceum programs this year.

THE FATHER OF MODERN JAZZ PIANO — Earl "Fatha" Hines
Throughout the world, Earl Hines is recognized as the "father" of modern jazz piano. His was the liberating force which originally set it on an entirely new course, and his innovations have been incorporated in the idiom ever since. Not that he himself has rested on his laurels. Far from it. The essential character of his music, with its strong, buoyant beat, has not changed, but he has used it as the foundation for developments, building on it a style that is the fullest, richest, and most ceaselessly inventive of any that can be heard in jazz today.

TRINIDAD FOLK FESTIVAL

The Trinidad Folk Festival was founded by Artistic Director, Aubrey Adams, eight years ago. The members are dancers, singers, and folk musicians with years of experience in the field of Caribbean folk art and culture.

CHARLOTTE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FEATURING ANDRÉ WATTS

The Charlotte Symphony Orchestra, an accomplished ensemble consisting of seventy-eight skilled musicians, has been performing for forty-seven years. The orchestra performed selections from a classical and contemporary repertoire while featuring guest artist André Watts.

At age 31, André Watts has already earned a secure place among the four or five keyboard giants of the day in the opinion of international press and public. In reviewing a recent Watts performance, Harold Schonberg of the New York Times, wrote, "he has a kind of personal magic that makes an event of a concert, the electric feeling that occurs only when an important artist is at work."

"THE WIZ" IS A WOW AND THE NEW YORK CRITICS ACCLAIMED IT.

"The Wiz" is a wow, and the New York theatre critics have been acclaiming the show for more than four years that it has been jamming them in on Broadway.

Clive Barnes writing in the New York Times said of the musical, "'The Wiz' is colorful, mysterious, opulent and fanciful. Intended as a new kind of fantasy, it is a dream dreamed by a space-aged child." William Glover of the Associated Press added, "'The Wiz' is a wow and even Judy Garland fans can cheer. A jiving, colorful, jovial musical." Didier Delaunoy writing in the Black American extolled, "'The Wiz' is the new miracle on Broadway! Go! Take the kids! (They'll love it!) Take your woman or man with you. But go!" Time Magazine's Ted Kalem said, "A carnival of fun. It grins from soul, sizzles with vitality, and flaunts the gaudy hues of an exploding rainbow. Its talk is jumping jivernacular, its walk is a big-city strut, its dances have a blowtorch frenzy, and its songs range from a warm gospel flow to the rock beat of a riveter mining asphalt." Jack Kroll of Newsweek said, "One of the most cyclonic blasts of high energy to hit Broadway in a long time. "'The Wiz' has blazing high spirits, piping-hot servings of soul and sly sagacity about the pleasures and perils of fantasy." Brendan Gill of the New Yorker said "Judy Garland, Bert Lahr, Ray Bolger, Jack Haley: if they hover above the stage of 'The Wiz,' it is surely only to signal encouragement to a host of gifted newcomers. It is a big, fervent, handsome and skillfully directed show."

This new National company is being directed by Geoffrey Holder with choreography by George Faison, the same team that staged the Broadway production. The sets are by Peter Wolf, costumes by Geoffrey Holder, lighting by Tharon Musser with orchestrations by Harold Wheeler. The book is by William F. Brown and the music and lyrics are by Charlie Smalls.

December 12, 1978

The Drama Guild wants to give special thanks to Ms. Linda Adams for her help and consultation.

"The first breeze of summer" is an action filled drama written by Leslie Lee. The play was performed by the WSSU Drama Guild at the Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium. The drama centered around GREMMAR, a charming and loving woman in her mid-seventies, who constantly has flashbacks of her early romances of over fifty years ago.

STUDENT UNION

Role of the College Union

The union is the community center of the college, for all members of the college family—students, faculty, administration, alumni and guests. It is not just a building; it is also an organization and a program. Together they represent a well-considered plan for the community life of the college.

As the living room or hearthstone of the college, the union provides for the services, conveniences, and amenities the members of the college family need in their daily life on the campus and for getting to know and understand one another through informal association outside the classroom.

The union is part of the educational program of the college. As the center of college community life, it serves as a laboratory of citizenship, training students in social responsibility and for leadership in our democracy. Through its various boards, committees and staff, it provides a cultural, social, and recreational program aiming to make free time activity a cooperative factor with study in education. In all its processes it encourages self-directed activity, giving maximum opportunity for self-realization and for growth in individual social competency and group effectiveness. Its goal is the development of persons as well as intellects.

The union serves as a unifying force in the life of the college, cultivating enduring regard for and loyalty to the college.

HOMECOMING 78

WSSU: Pride and Excellence

Our 1978 Homecoming theme stresses the University's commitment to maintain a high level of self-esteem while further developing its standards of academic excellence.

Pride and excellence is what Winston-Salem State University is all about. We take great pride in our being, our heritage, our growth and education. We continually strive to excel educationally, culturally and ultimately, professionally.

Homecoming is an exciting time on the campus of WSSU. For those who have gone away, it means returning to something comfortable that was left behind. It is the reuniting of friends and acquaintances. It is a glance into the past. It is reminiscing about the "good ole days" and seeing what changes have taken place at the old alma mater.

For those who are still at home, it means seeing friends who have graduated, it means, RED and WHITE DAY, CORONATION, PARADE, THE BIG GAME and many other exciting activities.

Most importantly, HOMECOMING is UNITY; it is a time of camaraderie and reunion; a linkage of the past and present.

RED AND WHITE DAY

Look! Up in the streets it's, it's, it's ...

... In the Gymmmnnnaaaasiummm.

... It's back in the streets ...

... And on top of trucks?

Is it the Spirit of Red & White Day, or is it . . .

. . . The spirit of the super Fiberglass Fool!

HOLDIN' ON!!!

A theme unknown but implemented throughout the '78 football season, as exemplified by the band.

HOLDIN' ON!!!

A theme unknown but implemented throughout the '78 football season. A theme that was battered, rammed, and stomped through dismayed opponents.

HOLDIN' ON!!!

A theme portrayed by an offense that stifled opponents. A defense that mauled and manhandled opponents. A defense that made goal line stances appear as mere gestures.

HOLDIN' ON!!!

A theme realized from a previously undefeated, untied CIAA championship team, a theme of the present, a theme that will have to be carried to a new day ... a new beginning.

MRS. NORA SCALES

THE WSSU ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, INC.

The Winston Salem State University Alumni Association, Inc. is composed of graduates, former students and friends of Slater Industrial School, Winston Solem Teachers College, Winston Salem State College and Winston Salem State University. If one has attended any of the above for any amount of time, they are considered on Alumnus of what is presently known as Winston Salem State University.

There are chapters in most cities and towns throughout North Carolina and places such as Detroit, Michigan, Danville, Hompton and Richmond, Virginia, Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Moryland, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Atlantic City, Newark and Trenton, New Jersey, New York, Boston, Massachussets and Charleston, South Carolina. Attempts are being made to form chapters in many other states such as Mississippi, Delaware, California and Florida.

In the fall of 1975, an organization was formed on the campus of Winston Salem State University, for the purpose of bringing together students and Alumni who are proud of their University. The name of the group is the Student Alumni Relations Association (SARA). This organization gives the students an opportunity to share their spirit for WSSU with alumni, porents, friends, and campus visitors.

NORTH CAROLINA COALITION

The North Carolina Alumni and Friends Coalition was organized December 15, 1973 in Greensboro, NC. The Coalition consists of members of the Alumni Associations of the five predominantly Black universities of the University of North Carolina System, educators, administrators, student leaders and other concerned citizens.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

A variety of clubs and organizations function on the campus throughout the school year. Students become members of clubs and organizations that best suit their interest. These organizations sponsor programs, projects and activities which the students find interesting, enjoyable and beneficial to campus life.

Student organizations should increase the sense of fellowship within the group, lift university morale and make worthy contributions to campus and community life.

The S.G.A., as it presently operates, is the official spokesman for the student body regarding all matters that pertain directly or indirectly to students. As part of its diversified functions, it acts as custodian for S.G.A. funds in conjunction with the business office.

Manned by a senior president, who is elected by popular vote, and two representatives from each class, the S.G.A. this year adopted an all-embracing program of activities.

The R. J. Reynolds Scholastic Program started in 1973 with only five participants. Since then there has been a total of 99 students involved in the program.

The program was designed to assist in the development of W.S.S.U. by focusing it's attention on the student body, the faculty and curriculum. It has been most effective in increasing the number of students on campus with high academic potential.

1979 RAMS FOOTBALL TEAM

No matter how strong a team looks in preseason scouting reports, it is on the field where it really counts. 1978-79 football campaign was everything the scouting reports predicted. Under the able direction of returning QB Kermit Blaunt and defensive standouts Baxter Harrington and Anderson Noble, the Rams were ranked No. 1 in the nation in NCAA division II.

Head Coach: Bill Hayes

For the second consecutive year the Rams football team was undefeated during regular season play. The Rams football team climaxed the season with a trip to Delaware for the NCAA division II semi-finals after winning a crucial contest with California Polytechnical Institute in the quarter-finals on our home field.

For third year Head Coach, Bill Hayes, another season in his "new beginning," was successful and well worth the time and effort put into it.

A LOOK BEHIND THE SCENES

There is one individual who helps the football team and other athletic teams at the University and never gets any recognition for his hard work. A well known name throughout the CIAA and around Ram country is Fernandez Griffin, better known as "Bumpy."

Bumpy, a native of Winston-Salem and a senior Physical Education major, has been the equipment manager, trainer, statistician and a most important link in the chain of the athletic department for several years.

He is one of the major forces behind the successful Ram football team and basketball team. Without the trainer and equipment manager, it would be impossible for a college team to get on the football field or basketball court. The trainer applies the protective bandaging to those weak points of the body and the equipment manager takes care of suiting the players with the outer protective clothing and padding.

Bumpy starts his year in early August. During football season he reports to the training room before 7 a.m. every day to receive any player that might be sick or injured.

"When it comes to management, Bumpy is Mr. Everything. He is probably the most knowledgeable young man in the country when it comes to team and equipment management"

A LEGEND IN HIS OWN TIME —

Clarence E. Gaines

ROOM FOR BIGHOUSE UNDER ROOF OF N.C. SPORTS HALL OF FAME

Head basketball coaches of the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association brought their star players to Henderson, NC recently to look each other over and boast or wail about the upcoming season. On the long trip from Winston-Salem Clarence E. "Bighouse" Gaines fell into a reflective mood.

"Mike," he asked his 6-5 forward Mike Robinson, "do you believe in reincarnation?" After a long, suspicious silence Robinson replied, "Well, sort of." "What do you want to be when you come back? I want to be an ant," declared Gaines. "In that case I want to be a big shoe," said Robinson, his interest in conversation picking up.

"A shoe! Why a shoe?"

"So I can stomp ants!"

"Oh, Mike," grimaced Bighouse. "That really makes me sad to hear you say that." "I wouldn't stomp you, Chief. I'd take care of you just like you've taken care of me," reassured Robinson. "I'd put you in a glass ant farm and make you run laps."

Bighouse just looked heavenward and shook his head. It was hard to tell which he dreaded more, the upcoming season or his next life as an ant.

That little conversation just might reveal the key to Bighouse's success as a coach at Winston-Salem State University the last 32 years. He works his players hard, but he also builds a rapport with them that allows them to know the coach as someone they can relax with and approach off the court.

His former players drop by and call so often that sometimes it's hard for Gaines to meet deadlines. Cleo Hill, who was the Number 1 draft choice of the St. Louis Hawks in 1961 — and the first ballplayer from a Black college to be first round draft choice in the NBA, calls nearly every month to check on his former coach and to tell him of high school and junior college players in New Jersey.

Carlos Terry was drafted then let go by the Los Angeles Lakers and is now playing in the professional league in the Philippines. He calls Bighouse every week. While Earl Monroe was negotiating with the Knicks and several other teams a short while ago, he spent most of his time in Winston-Salem. He ran and worked out on campus, and all the while his companion and advisor was Coach Gaines.

Thomas Paulin is playing pro ball in Europe. One of his first stops in this country between seasons is Coach Gaines' office.

Between the stops of those athletes who made it to the professional ranks are the players and students who chose other professions. They stop by unannounced and are never told to wait or to come back some other time. They all know they are welcome and just drop in. Homecoming week is a traffic jam that never clears in the new Athletic Complex named in honor of America's winningest active basketball coach.

Since 1947, Gaines' teams have won 639 games and lost 256, a whopping .714 winning percentage. Those wins include 12 CIAA conference championships, 8 conference tournament wins, a NAIA District 26 championship, 6 trips to the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City and the NCAA College Division Championship in 1967. Along the way he has picked up Coach of the Year honors from the CIAA, NAIA District and the NCAA.

Gaines' 639 wins put him in 6th place on the all-time list of winning basketball coaches. He trails John Wooden (667), Ed Diddle (759), Hank Iba (767), Phog Allen (771) and Adolph Rupp (874). He is already in the CIAA and the Morgan State Sport Halls of Fame.

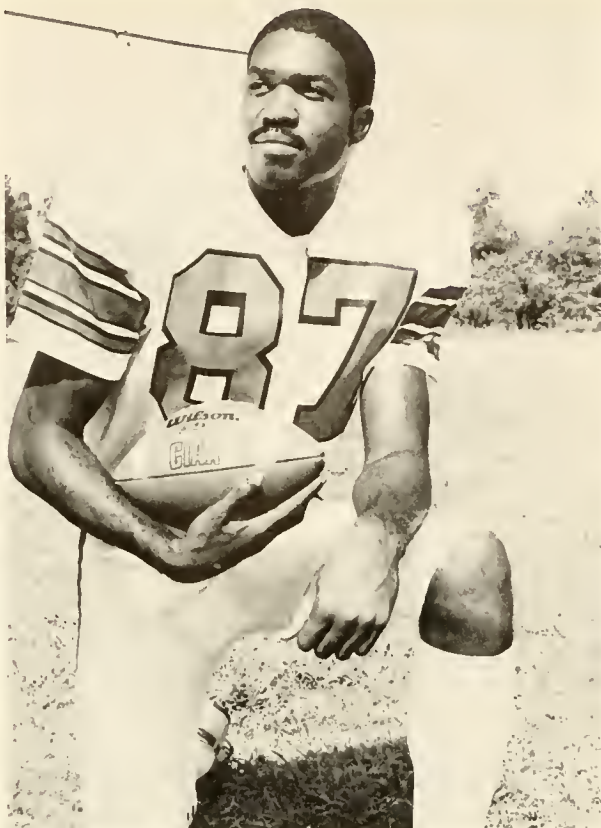

On Thursday, November 2, at 7:30 p.m. he joined the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame at the Benton Convention Center. Commenting on his election Gaines recently said, "It's good that achievement at small colleges is getting recognition, and it's nice to be in such good company." Other NC Hall of Famers are Enos Slaughter, Smokey Burgess, Gaylord Perry, Roman Gabriel and Bones McKinney.

Outstanding as his achievements on the court are, his successes as an Athletic Director are also being recognized. From 1946-49 he compiled an 18-9-2 record as WSSU's football coach. The record was the school's best until he hired Bill Hayes. In three years, Hayes has directed his teams to 22 consecutive regular season wins, 2 perfect seasons, back-to-school CIAA titles and an overall record of 26-8-0.

The football team's success is Gaines' success too. At a recent news conference Gaines explained that his job as Athletic Director was to meet NAIA and NCAA regulations and field teams in 8 sports and to see that there was "balance" in the school's sports program. To Gaines, balance means "winning." He has to find coaches who can win and help them chalk up the scores. In years as Athletic Director Winston-Salem State has won 2 conference track championships, 3 football championships and 6 CIAA golf titles. Last year he hired Mike Edwards to boost the wrestling program, and this year WSSU is getting its feet wet in competitive swimming. The goal is always to win. "If I play you in marbles," says Gaines in earnest, "I will try my best to beat you." That's what he expects from his coaches and athletes.

The other schools in the CIAA are very familiar with Bighouse's drive for winning teams. None of the other coaches at Henderson took Gaines very seriously as he spoke mournfully of having only a 6-5 center and 6-6 forwards. "I'll be lucky if I break even this season," Gaines told the assembled coaches, players and reporters. The opposing coaches all looked as though they had heard that before and voted Hampton Institute as the top team in the Northern Division of the CIAA and predicted that WSSU would win the Southern Division title, which it did.

A look at this year's WSSU lineup shows Winston-Salem's Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines embarking into this 33rd Ram season (650-257) with eight lettermen returning, the main thrust coming on the front line where All-CIAA team captain Reggie Gaines (6-8 jr., 18.6ppg/7.4 rebs) and junior center starter Mike Robinson (6-7, 14.0/11.0) return and at guard were 6-2 senior David Harold is spoken of as the best Ram at the position since Earl Monroe.

Wrestlers Shoot For Top

The Winston-Salem State University Wrestling program took another forward step in its development, with a 25-man roster. The Rams were at full strength for the first time in the school's history. Coach Mike Edwards had mat men in each of the 10 weight classes and depth at each class except the 177 lb.

The full roster, a new weight program, and the plush setting of the $2.2 million C. E. Gaines Athletic Complex excited Coach Edwards, the team and Ram fans.

Scheduling changes increased the challenge to Coach Edwards to put together a winning program at WSSU. Pembroke, the perennial Carolinas Conference Champ, stayed on the schedule and the Rams challenged Appalachian State, the Citadel and UNC-Chapel Hill. All of those have highly competitive teams in their conferences. In addition, Edwards took a squad to Gainesville, Florida, the site of the Sunshine Open, a tournament that attracts top collegiate teams from across the U.S.

Edwards hoped for at least a break even season. In 1975 the Rams were 1-6, then 3-5 in 1976 and last year. This year WSSU missed CIAA wrestler Reggie Sherrord who is in medical school.

With a lot of hard work the Rams finished 10-3 overall, won 4th place in the CIAA and 3rd in NAIA District 26. Curtis Gore won first place in the 177 class of the CIAA and Ricky Hargrove won first in 134 class of District 26. In the CIAA, Hargrove won 2nd and Thaddeus Wilkins won 2nd in the 167 class. In District 26 Horace Williams won 2nd place in the 142 class and Charles Hooker placed 3rd in the 150 class.

By virtue of their 1st and 2nd place finishes in the District Tournament, Hargrove and Williams became the first Rams to represent Winston-Salem State in the National Tournament in WSSU's wrestling history. Both were eliminated, Hargrove after 2 wins, and both hope to return next year with more Rams.

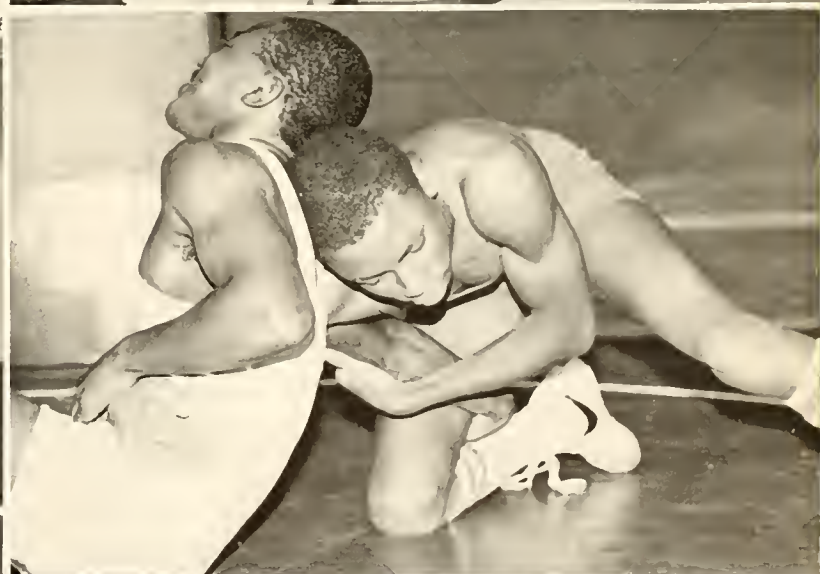

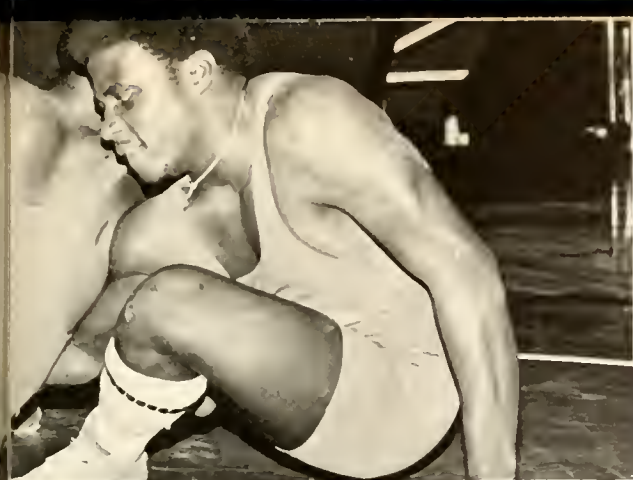

Edwards is hopeful that he can continue to recruit well on the East Coast. "WSSU offers what no other college in North Carolina can, the opportunity to wrestle in the CIAA, NAIA and the NCAA Division II, and a quality education at a great location."

With his new recruits and a core of winning upperclassmen, Edwards hopes to surprise other teams in the CIAA and NAIA.

C.A.N.C. Judge Richard C. Erwin

The Winston Salem State University Alumni held a banquet in honor of Richard C. Erwin, Judge, Court of Appeals of North Carolina on WSSU's Campus. Mickey Michaux, U.S. Attorney for Middle District Court in North Carolina, was the keynote speaker for the occasion. Mr. Michaux said that Judge Erwin has helped to "bridge the gap between scientific and moral progress." He said that "we must have a true revolution of values and re-establish the moral ends of our lives." He concluded by saying we should seek "... a genuine revolution of values that extends loyalty to mankind." A special plaque was presented to Judge Erwin by Winslow Lowery, Alumni Director, WSSU.

Judge Erwin promised to continue to work with citizens and maintain fairness and impartiality.

Present Home — Winston-Salem, N. C.

Education — B.S., Winston-Salem State University; M.A., Teachers College, Columbia University; Further Study: Art Students' League of New York, Columbia University, Southern College of Arts at Portsmouth (Hants), England; Professional Diploma, Teachers College, Columbia University

Profession — Professor of Art, Winston-Salem State University

Personal—Wife, Mary; Daughter, T. Janifer

Profile — Was a member of one of the earliest classes of the then Winston Salem Teachers College. Shortly after graduating, served in numerous capacities at this school. He has seen this school grow from a few scattered buildings to its present size having been here longer than anyone else. His inherent aspirations have been continuously over the years to take on any opportunities to further broaden his scope of knowledge. With this valuable asset he has continuously broadened the knowledge of those around him. For him learning is a never ending process that always prevails. He, indeed, has played an extremely important role at WSSU.

Education — B.S., Winston-Salem State University; M.A., New York University; M.S., Columbia University; Further Study; Manhattan School of Music, Syracuse University; Professional Diploma, Columbia University; University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Profession — Assistant Professor of Music and Chairman of the Lyceum Committee, Winston-Salem State University

Personal — Wife, Shirley; Daughters, Harriett and Amelio; Son, Willis

Profile — Since he was a member of the first class of music majors at this institution, he has seen the music department's growth from infancy to its present status. During the time he was a music student, he organized an instrumental group called the T. C. Collegians. It was due to this group that students and alumni were motivated to request of the president to establish a college band. Upon the willingness of the president to pursue this matter, the alumni carried out a fund raising drive for money to buy equipment for the first band.

The efforts he has unselfishly given can be seen in the ramifications of the many students who have interacted with him on the educational level. His ability to be an avid organizer has been shown in countless ways. His dedication has been more than proven over the years in his service to the institution.

HAYWOOD L. OUBRE

Haywood L. Oubre

Present Home — Winston-Salem, N. C.

Education — B.A., Dillard University; M.F.A., University of Iowa; Further Study: Atlanta University

Profession — Professor of Art, Chairman of Art Department, Winston-Salem State University

Personal — Daughter, Amelie Geneva

Profile — A perfectionist. His presence in the Art Department at this institution is unquestionably there. The authority he projects is not only one to be respected but is also one to be cherished. His pride in art is associated only with the best as can be seen in his teaching experiences, exhibition honors and awards, and highly acclaimed acknowledgements in various publications. Throughout his life, he has been labeled as one with (1) proficiency, (2) efficiency, (3) intellectuality and (4) veracity. With all of these qualities in mind there is no question as to why he earns our high respect. To him life is fundamental, not superficial. For him, he possesses no single philosophy in life — because to him a philosophy comes daily out essentially in his relationships to people with whom he comes in contact.

The purpose of the second annual Career Awareness Conference was to allow consultants from various corporations and industries to confer with high school and college students about opportunities that are available in various professional fields.

Dr. Mahlon T. Puryear, associate deputy director, National Urban League, Inc., New York, was the keynote speaker in an assembly held in the Kenneth R. Williams auditorium. Dr. Puryear told students to "stay in school long enough to absorb the knowledge to make a career . . ." He, also, said that " . . . America was built on dreams and we must continue to dream and to take advantage of our constitutional rights for life, liberty and the pursuit for happiness".

This conference was co-sponsored by Winston-Salem State University's Career Planning and Placement office and the National and Local Urban League.

DAY

COMMUNICATIONS

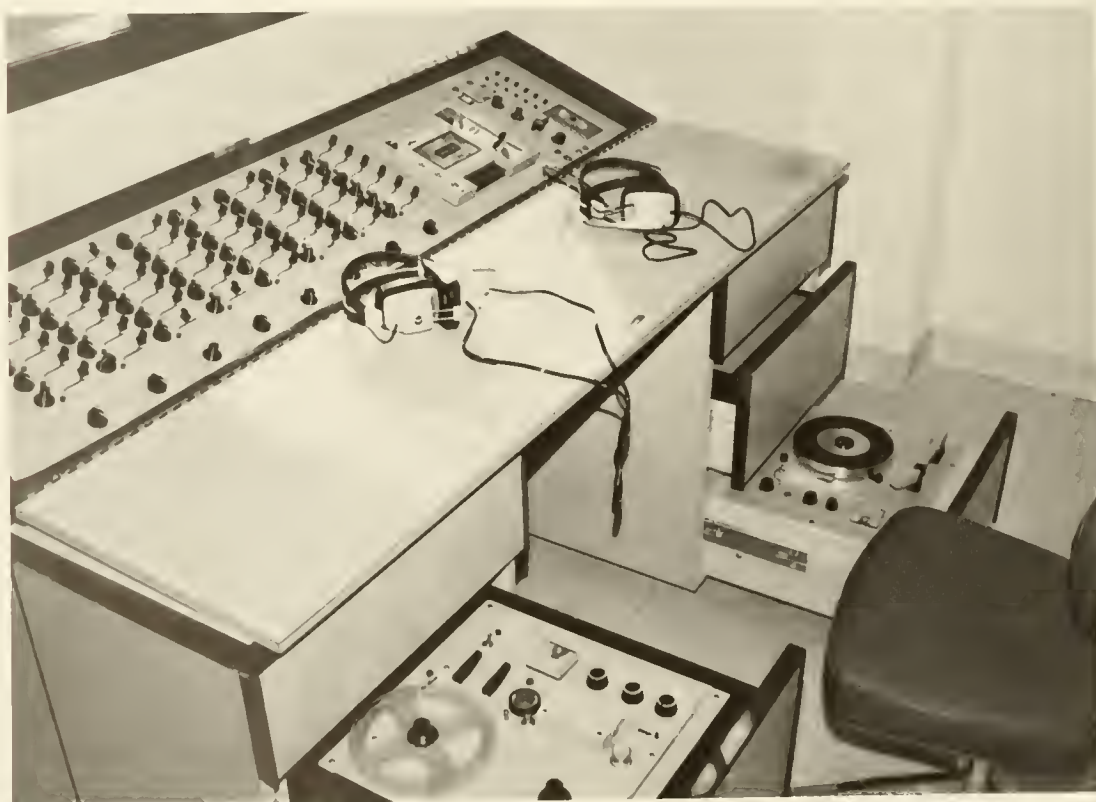

Communications Building

Winston-Salem State's Communications Building is a specialized facility housing the Department of Communication Arts and several academic support services. It is designed to facilitate the use of media and other educational technology and to reinforce the teaching process and enhance learning. Instructional areas range from a 260 seat multi-media lecture hall to individualized instructional areas in the Writing Center, the Academic Computer Center, the Enrichment Center, and the Reading Laboratory.

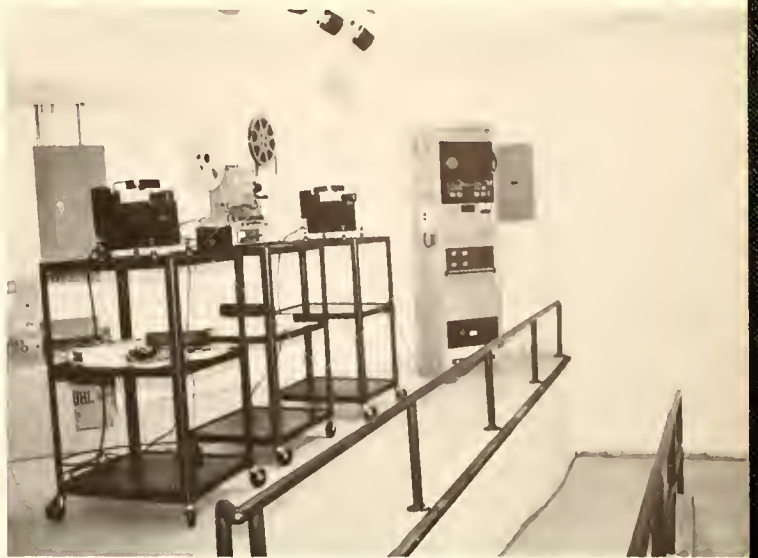

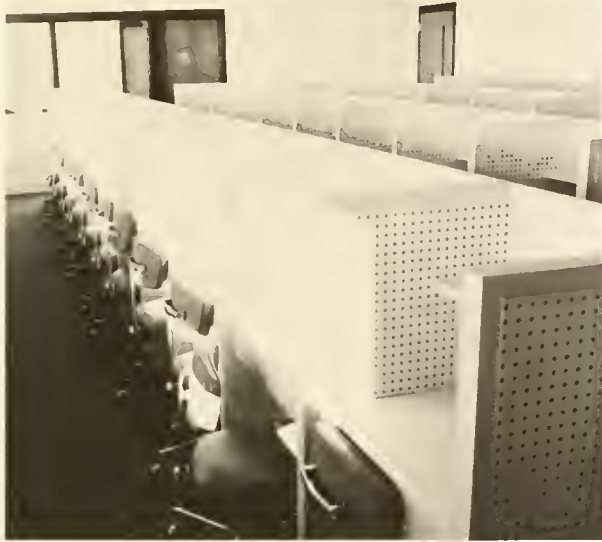

Central to the building's designated function are a radio station and a television studio both specifically planned to support the educational goals of the university. The academic programs geared to these facilities are designed to maximize student involvement in the practical and theoretical aspects of the communication process and to broaden career options.

Other facilities or programs housed in the building include the Media Center which provides technical and service support for the entire complex as well as instructional design support and necessary hardware for general classroom and individual instruction; a 45 station Language and Speech laboratory; the Administrative Data Processing Center, the Special Services Program, and General Studies.

WINSTON SALEM STATE UNIVERSITY

Winston-Salem, North Carolina

ALMA MATER

*As we go forth from old State U.
A song of praise we sing to you,
In praises to the memory
Of days at State University.*

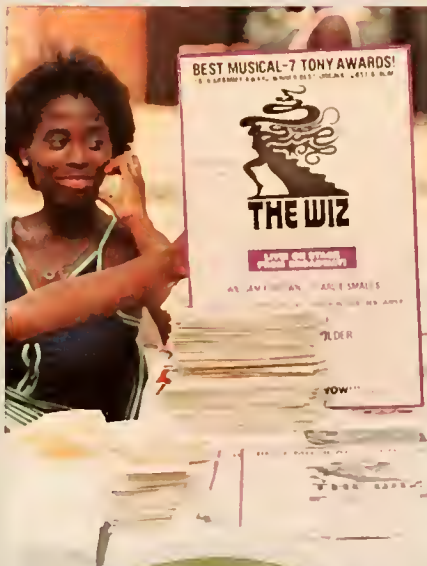

*Thy sons and daughters bring thee fame
Through knowledge which we here have gained.
Exultingly we raise thy name,
O Winston-Salem State University.*

*As we go forth from old State U.
Good leaders we will always be.
And stand for Christianity,
As you've taught us, State University.*

*In all we do we shall proclaim
To all the world thy teaching fame,
As we go forth we praise thy name,
O Winston-Salem State University.*
